SIGNIFICANT ISSUES:

Economy

07/8/11 Household Budget (6:00pm 1:25)

Today's terrible jobs report confirms it...there is no powerful recovery hiding right around the corner. And a new survey by Harris Interactive proves there is no end in sight to penny pinching. If the latest economic news has you spooked, and you're looking to tighten your belt like most of your fellow Americans...here are the top ways they're doing it, according to polling group Harris Interactive. And it starts with bad news for Starbucks. Twenty one percent of Americans polled have stopped buying their morning cup of coffee. At lunchtime, forty six percent of them will only eat what they've brought from home...looks like many Americans are brown-bagging it. In times like these...seems like looking good has simply become less important.

07/11/11 Deals on Airfare (5:00pm 1:30)

Maureen O'Boyle did a Stretching Your Dollar segment on ways to get deals on airfare. The myth is that all available inventory is on the internet, it's only what the travel providers make available. Greenberg says start by calling the 800 number for your airline! Remember two things: any hold-time could be money in your pocket, and you've got to be flexible. Get the price you can talking to a human being and then you can hold it for 24 hours it's in that 24 hour window that you can surf the net and if you do it the other way around you're trapped you can't call me you can even call ghostbusters you're stuck with that fare!

7/28/11 Tooth Fairy Cutting Back (5:30p.m. 1:08)

The slow economy is taking a toll- on the tooth fairy. A new survey from Visa shows kids are getting less money for their lost teeth. Nationally- the going rate for a tooth is down from 3 bucks last year to 2-60 this year year. The south took a big hit - the tooth fairy left an average of 3-30 for children last year. That number fell 21% - now on par with the national average.

7/31/11 Water Conservation (6:00a.m. :55)

We're on your side - with a creative way to save money in this down economy. WBTV found out how a Caldwell County man cut his water use in half by harnessing the power of mother nature. WBTV's Steve Ohnesorge talked with the man this week, to see how it all works.

8/17/11 Debit Card Charges (4:00p.m., 5:00p.m., 10:00p.m., 11:00p.m. 1:15)

Wells Fargo customers may soon have to pay more just to spend their own money. The bank is now considering charging customers to use their debit card. Industry insiders say banks have to find new ways to make money since new federal laws that protect consumers have cut into their revenue.

8/19/11 Free Dental Clinic (5:00a.m., 6:00a.m. 1:11)

This is one of those rare occasions where so many people can get something for nothing. What they're getting is something very valuable and very much needed, but when you look at the economy, many of them just cannot afford healthcare or even dental care. That's where North Carolina Missions of Mercy steps in.

8/25/11 Pets being Abandoned (4:00p.m. :52)

Due to the economic tough times, Animal Control reports that more pets are being abandoned... WBTV followed the story of one dog that had been abandoned and on the street for over a month before Animal Control picked it up.

9/12/11 Habitat for Humanity Restore Shop (5:00p.m. 1:14)

Maureen O'Boyle reported on one of Charlotte's treasures: The Habitat for Humanity Re-Store on Wendover Avenue. They have windows... "if someone's doing a small addition and they're looking for that window, you guys have the resources here." Everything in this store was donated. As they like to say here, this is the greenest store in town. Many of these materials came from home renovations and would have ended up in a landfill.

9/20/11 4th Credit Bureau (6:00p.m. 1:25)

Most people are aware of three credit bureaus, but Melissa Hankins could find no one in Charlotte who had heard of a 4th credit bureau. Most know the big three...Experian, Equifax and Trans Union...they all track and report your financial history in the same way...by the payments you make on loans. Your other debts have been off limits, until now. The main way all this can be used against you...cable companies or apartment complexes will see you've been late on something like a Netflix account, or that you've bounced a check...and they'll use it as a reason to charge you higher safety deposit fees, or they'll tell you it's why they need you to sign up for automatic bill pay. Bottom line...every bill you have these days...matters.

9/27/11 NASCAR economy (5:30p.m. 1:26)

The sport was fast out of the box this season with TV ratings and attendance up, but just in the last couple of weeks two announcements were a step backward. Red Bull, a major racing sponsor worldwide announced it would leave NASCAR, leaving 150 workers out of a job, and Kevin Harvick announced he would shut down his successful truck series team, idling 140 workers. Now Harvick worked out a deal to sell the team instead and he's hopeful that will save some jobs.

9/29/11 Coffee Shop on Wheels (7:00p.m. 1:38)

The idea is a mobile espresso bar. DeLano bought this old ambulance so she'll never feel stuck in an empty store again...she can move where the action is. Birthday parties. Real Estate open houses. Radio remotes. The list goes on and on. The possibilities. It can be a little ATM machine for me, making money. Ron Yeller will be converting the ambulance for her...he says he's seeing all kinds of different business owners take to trucks...from barbers to vets.

Today, seems like everyone is trying to get away from paying rent. A truck is the better way to do it. It's a lot cheaper to start than it is to start up a restaurant. I don't have to have investors.

Public Safety

07/4/11 Carbon Monoxide (5:00pm 1:45)

Capt. Mark Basnight with the Charlotte Fire Department says carbon monoxide detectors are required in all single and multi-family homes. But he says this apartment didn't have one, even though other neighbors do have them. Cooper showed us hers which was provided by the apartment complex. Fire officials say carbon monoxide is especially dangerous because you can't see it or smell it. The best way to detect it is to have a carbon monoxide detector.. which costs about $20 and you can pick one up at any hardware store.

07/12/11 Exercising in Heat (6:00pm 1:21)

How dangerous is exercising in the heat? We put it to the test. Accompanied by two paramedics, Reporter Dave Whisenant went to the track at Salisbury High...checked his vital signs...

Blood pressure 124 over 84... He ran for ten minutes at a moderate pace of about 6 and half miles an hour.

"I run about three times a week, but never in this heat, this is just one lap and I'm breathing pretty hard."

The paramedics knew what was happening to me as I took lap after lap.

"He's getting very fatigued, I think, he's gradually slowing down, face is getting red." 10 minutes later, I stopped and let the paramedics take over.

"172 over 58...that's pretty high." "Your heart rate has gone up to 139, you hear it dinging, that's a sign that your heart rate is getting too high, it went from 80 to 139."

"Use common sense, don't run in this heat, don't run in this temperature it's too hot, healthy or not."

Dave did this for 10 minutes, had that much of a change, if you know people who are out for several hours, they may not be running for that period of time but they will be doing stuff that is intense, construction, roofing that kind of stuff, would they have the same type of spike?

If you're out for a long period of time, you also have to watch your blood sugar, not even being a diabetic, if you're sweating really bad, lot of people sweat a lot, their blood sugar can drop on them, they need to consider all of that.

07/14/11 Distracted Driving Lesson (12:00pm, 5:30 p.m., 10:00 p.m. 1:15)

Any of the teens and parents we talked to will tell you and show you distractions are a disaster. More telling than their words were their actions behind the wheel and the fear from their parents watching from the front seat. Allstate Insurance wanted to drive this point home, they set up this distracted driving test to help raise awareness – hoping to reduce the rising rate of teens injured and killed by distracted driving.

07/16/11 Craig's List Rental Scam (5:00am, 6:00am, 7:00am :30)

A new rental scheme -- is targeting both landlords and prospective tenants. Crooks are, once again, using Craigslist...to rip people off. WBTV's Melissa Hankins shows you the warning signs...and tells you how to keep from falling victim.

7/21/11 Cell Phone Hacking (6:00 a.m. 1:18)

WBTV discovered one technique of cell phone hacking that takes very little effort. We hacked the voicemail of a WBTV photographer (with his permission, of course.) A few computer clicks later and we were in, searching for a voice mail left earlier in the date. WBTV told about various hacking techniques and then showed the software you can buy to prevent it.

8/07/11 Social Media in an Emergency (6:00a.m. :46)

WBTV reported on a 10-year old son who just got a cell phone that we to use in emergency situations. And cyber expert Theresa Payton says that lesson can go one step further. "If its safe to do teach them to text -use twitter - and facebook - to get the word out that there's a crisis - they're in danger - or on perimeter is something that's happening." Social Media has been used successfully to communicate in life-threatening situations. WBTV.com provided more details and information.

8/8/11 Texting While Driving (10:00p.m. 1:11)

Let's be honest -- most of us have done it before -- text and driving. But troopers across North Carolina are definitely on the lookout out for you. The numbers are pretty telling. WBTV rode along with Trooper Ben Miller tonight. We saw plenty of people on talking and their phones but very few texting and driving. Most were texting while at a stoplight. But trooper are definitely ticketing more drivers for texting and driving. In fact --statewide troopers ticketed 482 people in last month alone! That's compared to 651 tickets for ALL of 2010.

8/11/11 Balance is Due (5:00p.m. 1:08)

8/14/11 (5:00a.m., 6:00a.m. 1:08)

Brittany Box gets dozens of emails every day - many of which - she ignores. But she's always a little tempted when she sees something claiming to be from her bank - telling her she's late on a payment. Cyber expert Theresa Payton says those scam emails are becoming more common. They offer an easy link to click - to make a payment without penalty. And unlike other scam emails with bad spelling and grammar - these are slick. Your credit card company will never email a link that takes you directly to your statement - so just don't open emails like that. If you do get a "late notice" by email - don't click the link - just call the card company for verification. And then once you've spotted the scam - let your card company know - so they can protect other customers.

8/23/11 Wx Proofing House-Hurricane House Preps (5:00p.m. 1:38)

As the coast braces for Hurricane Irene... folks here in the Charlotte area may not be out of the woods. Preliminary forecasts show there's a small chance the storm could hit Charlotte. If that does happen your house could be at risk. WBTV's Trent Faris is on your side with some things you can do to protect your house.

9/4/11 Digitally Duped (4:00 p.m. :47)

We love our computers. Can't live without our cellphones. Both hold a lot of important, personal information. But a new survey shows we don't do a very good protecting that info. Adam O'Daniel with the Charlotte Business Journal joined WBTV via Skype. Adam reviewed a technology study that looked at major metropolitan areas and found we're not that secure.

9/17/11 NFL Security at Panthers Game (10:00 p.m., 11:00 1:12)

The NFL is starting enhanced pat down procedures. "Before this Sunday pat downs were from the waist up -- now the pat downs will be from the ankle up." The reason the panthers have a long laundry list of things that are not allowed into Bank of America Stadium game day two of which are alcohol and Weapons. "One thing the fans may get a little angry with is there's going to be more than 73 thousand fans here tomorrow and the pat downs may cause some long lines." Also some believe the full body pat down is an invasion of privacy, but the searches are something Smith is OK with. "It's all about public safety out here, so I think everyone should be patted down to make sure everyone is safe."

9/21/11 Domestic Violence Workplace Training (5:30p.m. 1:33)

A stunning display of how domestic violence can spill over into the workplace occurred right here Monday night... leaving Lowe's employees devastated. A woman was working the register when her husband came in and shot her to death. Then, he killed himself. Oh, it was just absolutely heartbreaking. But it really highlights the reason we've been planning the summit for months now. Kelly Coyne works with United Family Services...the Charlotte non-profit will host a conference soon designed to help businesses prevent tragedy.

Social; Human Services

07/8/11 New Facebook (5:00pm :53)

Available now - to all Facebook users - is video chat - And technology experts are speculating that the next feature to follow - will be just as big... Mixed feelings on that one - still - Facebook is quickly becoming a one-stop internet destination to keep you connected in every way.

07/13/11 Attic Fan (5:00 a.m., 6:00am 1:12)

We found one way to beat the heat. A local contractor is helping homeowners stay cool and save money. They're installing attic fans which pull some of the 100-plus-degree heat OUT of the attic and reduce stress on air conditioners. Contractors say they're only a couple hundred bucks to install -- nothing compared to what you would spend on thousands to replace a heat damaged roof.

07/15/11 New Botox Treatment (5:00p.m. 1:11)

WBTV reported on a new Botox treatment that's so new - the cost is unclear yet - Say you'd pay five to eight hundred dollars for a normal filler - this might be in the range of 15 to 25 hundred dollars. Dr. Munavalli says he's the only one around here offering laViv - certainly that will change - now that the treatment is approved by the FDA.

07/27/11 iPads for Special Needs (5:00p.m. 1:21)

Kristen Miranda reported on how iPads were being used by families with special needs children. Children with speech issues, etc. Using the iPads costs thousands of dollars less for families than the standard speech equipment. The test family had to give the test iPad back - but the family has raised enough money to buy an iPod touch she can bring to school. More information posted on the consumer page at wbtv dot com.

08/03/11 Living with Coyotes (11:00p.m. :23)

08/04/11 (6:00a.m. 1:53)

A controversy over aggressive coyotes in Charlotte. Neighbors say they're being stalked and their pets are being attacked by the wild animals. But, the County claims the coyotes don't pose a threat. And they say folks are just going to have to learn to live with them. WBTV's Tom Roussey talked to neighbors and officials about the problem.

08/05/11 Facebook Sex Game (6:00p.m., 10:00p.m., 11:00p.m. 1:52)

A new Facebook sex game called "smash or pass" causing concerns and controversy tonight. Young teens are posting pictures of themselves to see if people want to "smash" as in hook up sexually with them... or "pass" on them. Experts say that this is not a game to be taken lightly...It's not just other teens looking at those pictures. Predators are looking at those pictures as well.

8/25/11 Auto Fair (5:30p.m., 10:00p.m. 1:10)

Inside you'll find all kinds of rides, from the 19 inch tall Flatmobile to the Batmobile, bullet proof to beautiful to Ricky Bobby to Scooby Doo...These displays and all the cars for show and for sale. "Most of our reputation is built on NASCAR we've really grown from a national recognition standpoint with being a car show destination as well." There are food vendors, and souvenir stands where you can buy tee shirts, though some chose not to do...but it still comes back to the cars.

9/15/11 The Art of Being Courteous (6:00p.m. 1:10)

At Little Angels Learning Academy, they are never too little to be polite. "It's easy to teach children at a young age, we can teach them anything and once it's instilled in them they will continue it on for the rest of their life." "Let's say you get hungry and you want something to eat do you say give me something to eat? No What do you say? May I have some please?" Please, and then there's thank you. It's almost down to a science here... The art of being courteous. They are the little things that will take a person far in life. These guys are already well on their way.

WBTV's Trent Faris reported on a company in Rock Hill, Keystone Prevention, who are helping parents and police determine the difference from some of the marketing ploys alcohol companies are using. All of these drinks are alcoholic and all of them are winding up in the hands of teenagers. "They're always coming up with new and creative ways to market their products to try to get youth and adults."

9/21/11 Bonding with Nature (6:00p.m. 1:01)

Tom and Barbara Nichols found the abandoned duckling, the same day their two un-feathered children went off to college.

9/23/11 Breast Milk and Brains (5:30p.m. 1:16)

Chrissy Allen is breastfeeding her newborn daughter Maddie, just like she did her other three children. I think it's the healthiest for the baby. It's the most natural, easiest for them to digest. Research shows breastfeeding protects babies against infection, asthma, and obesity, but there may be another benefit. A new study in the Journal Pediatrics finds babies who are breastfed show higher mental development at 14 months. A link between breastfeeding and brain development isn't new, But factors - such as the mother's education and income were thought to play a role. This study shows the benefits are independent of those social factors.

WBTV EDITORIALS, 3Q 2011:

"Speak Out" is an expression of opinion from the Editorial Board of WBTV, and is presented by General Manager, Nick Simonette. WBTV's Speak Out Editorials air two-times per week in various Newscasts.

WBTV Speak Out: Partisan Judicial Elections

Do the names John Martin, Rick Elmore, & Cheri Beasley sound familiar? You've probably seen them. In fact, you may have even voted for them in a recent election. Judges Martin, Elmore, & Beasley are three members of the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Most of us couldn't pick them out of a lineup. And yet, we've placed them into high office. That's the point. We probably know far less about the judges we elect than any other officials. A recently-passed bill in the State Senate would allow judges to affiliate themselves with a particular political party. We think that's a good thing. First, it will give those parties a chance to vet their candidates before they're placed on the ballot – in theory, narrowing the field to the best-qualified. It will also allow us, as voters, to have some broad idea about a judicial candidate's views, and how he or she might decide a particular issue. But wait? Aren't judges supposed to be impartial? That would be nice, but it's not reality. In fact, the President of the United States usually can't wait for an opening on the Supreme Court. He can then nominate a replacement who reflects his political persuasion. Allowing judges to align with a political party is not the ultimate answer. We still need to read up on the candidates and choose who we really believe is best for the job. But anything that helps us make an informed decision is a step in the right direction.

WBTV Speak Out: Men Who Care Global

A common call to action in many of our editorials is for people to get involved. To Speak Out, to do whatever they can to make our community better. On July 4th, we saw a great example of that spirit demonstrated by Men Who Care Global...a grassroots organization of African-American men, founded by Charlotte businessman and former City Councilman Ron Leeper. Adult volunteers wearing bright orange t-shirts hit the streets to help police keep order, and to provide an example of good behavior for teens. Their greater goal was to help young black men realize there is a better way. That violence is no answer to difficult circumstances that they may face...or frustrations they may feel. As they walked down the streets of uptown Charlotte, the volunteers of Men Who Care Global reached out to teens along the way...talking...listening...mentoring. These simple actions could have profound effects much more far-reaching than keeping peace at an uptown event. They could open up doors to positive futures these teens never imagined. If you would like to learn more about their organization, we've put a link on our Speakout page at WBTV dot com. Strong, positive role models do make a difference. And we applaud Men Who Care Global for their actions and their contribution to our community.

WBTV Speak Out: Curfew Changes to Protect Our Teens

There's no good time for a youngster to get into mischief. But more and more often, it seems like many teenagers are out and up to no good after midnight. Now it's time to change Charlotte's curfew ordinance. Right now, it only pertains to children 15 and under. But city leaders want to raise the limit to include 16 and 17-year-olds. Now we agree. Recent uptown events have emphasized the problem. In each of the past five years, nearly two hundred 16 and 17-year-olds have been arrested between 11pm and 6am. Now with a few exceptions, there's no reason for our young people to be wandering the streets during those hours. Shouldn't they be home getting a good night's rest? Deciding which college to attend? Certainly, they should be more concerned about their prom pictures than their mug shots. We think raising the curfew age would decrease the number of teens being arrested or otherwise getting in harm's way. Now if you agree, tell your City Councilman. But if you don't, please come up with an idea to keep 16 and 17-year-olds off the streets at night. The best remedy is for parents to take responsibility and keep tabs on their children. But until that universally occurs throughout Charlotte, let's give the City a tool to help them keep our kids safe.

WBTV Speak Out: Community Service for Unemployment Benefits

Right now America is facing an immense debt crisis that could destroy our country's credit rating. Now with that in mind, we ask: Is it time to rethink the way we issue unemployment benefits? America's unemployment epidemic is truly sickening. Millions have lost their jobs, and they have our most sincere sympathy. But sadly, we can't afford to continue issuing extended benefits. So, we think the long-term unemployed should perform community service in exchange for benefit checks. We know many people have done everything in their power to find work, and still, they can't. And we have to help them. But if we ask for something in exchange for their benefits...we'd be helping them even more. Look, we know there are people that abuse the system – they collect long-term unemployment because it's easier than job searching. If they actually had to work for their checks, it wouldn't be so easy for them. And we'd probably see the demand for unemployment drop. Conversely, there are those who are ashamed of relying on handouts. This is a solution for them, as well. If they earn even a portion of their checks, they can stand a little taller...and feel a little less alone. Unemployment is alienating. Those who've been out of work for too long tell us they aren't networking. And experts say that's a crucial part of getting hired. If the unemployed began logging a reasonable number of hours...And yes, they must have ample time to job search, too...they'd meet new people every day, and their chances of finding a job would improve. So, then, would the country's finances.

WBTV Speak Out: "Greed is Good?"

"Greed...is good." You know the phrase from the movies. "Greed" pours money into the economy...creates jobs...inflates our savings accounts. Personally, greed compels us to buy homes we can't afford...the latest sports cars...hi def TVs... "Just put it on the credit card – we'll pay for it later." National greed builds a bigger and fatter government...a massive new healthcare program...unsustainable entitlements. It bails out banks, mortgage companies, and automakers. "Just keep pouring out the money – we'll pay for it later." Well, ladies and gentlemen, "later" is "now." While politicians demonstrate a massive lack of leadership, we teeter on the verge of national bankruptcy. Think the problems in Greece, Spain, and Italy can't happen here? Well why not? Do you think we're THAT special? If our country goes under, it's less likely to be from a military strike than from a self-inflicted economic wound. We can't keep digging the hole deeper and deeper. Bankruptcy is not an option – not if we want to live in the United States that we know it. At some point, we've got to cut up the credit card and live within our means. We believe we've reached that point. Sacrifice will be required by us all and that won't be fun. It never is. We can't have everything we want right when we want it and we'll be better off in the long run.

Greed may be good in the movies, but in real life, it comes with an awfully steep price tag.

WBTB Speak Out: Fix DSS

A mother places a frantic 911 call saying her daughter isn't responding. Just hours later, her 2-year-old child is dead. Addison Lanham was too far gone by the time paramedics got her to the hospital. The story of the little girl's tragic death has caused outrage in our community, and not all of it aimed at the mother who is now accused of child abuse and death. Family members have said they called the Department of Social Services six times about little Addison. SIX times. What was possibly the only agency that could have helped this child didn't, and we want to know why.

Now this isn't just a problem in Gaston County. Far too often we hear of tragic deaths like this one. We hear DSS was called but failed to keep the child safe. We hear of budget cuts and how DSS workers are now spread too thin. We want to know why. The department gets 1.3 billion dollars a year to keep kids and families out of harm's way. But how can those dollars be justified in the wake of this most recent gut-wrenching tragedy? Maybe the problem is in the priorities. Maybe the solution is in setting up a better system, whatever the cost. It's not hard to argue that we need to do a better job at protecting those that can't defend themselves. But now we see again what happens when we don't.

WBTB Speak Out: Editorial Responses

Well, our SpeakOut Editorial suggesting people perform some community service in exchange for their unemployment benefits certainly struck a nerve. Ms. Debbie Mero responds: This editorial is a major insult to those who are desperately seeking work.... Charles Horton of Olin, NC writes: Your (unemployment) is based on work history...so the way I see it I earned every penny!! People that commit a crime do community service...unemployed workers ARE NOT CRIMINALS. T. Clark of Rockingham puts it succinctly: Give the unemployed a break. And Don Higginson of Huntersville phoned in these comments: I've been unemployed for three years, continuously. And the comments you made on SpeakOut -- that made me sick to my stomach.... But Leigh Gabardini agrees with our stance: I am on unemployment and (it's) very difficult finding employment. I am ALL FOR the community service program....it's a great idea and (a) way to actually get out in the field to expand my search options. As does Joe Shuster: Why shouldn't people be asked to...help out at schools, work at some of the overtaxed government departments such as the DMV...or answering phones, picking up trash and making our country cleaner in return for collecting unemployment money from the government. We thank all of you for voicing your opinions. For those of you who are unemployed, we truly wish you good luck in your job searches. But we stand by our earlier opinions.

WBTB Speak Out: Appalling CMS Graduation Rates

The latest graduation rates for Charlotte-Mecklenburg High Schools are out, and, quite frankly, they're appalling. Garinger "Leadership" High School...57%. West

Charlotte...54%. Waddell...51%. Wait a minute! HALF of the students at a high school do not graduate in four years?! But those are the extremes, you might say. Well, the average for CMS schools is just 72%. Okay, who's to blame? Well simply everybody. At least SOME of the teachers, principals, and administrators are just not getting the job done. Students – wake up! Dropping out of school is not as cool as you think it is. College graduates are having a tough time finding jobs. What chance do you think YOU'LL have? And parents, you shoulder the ultimate responsibility for your children. Do your job. At Mallard Creek High School, parents insist that their children attend after-school tutoring. They monitor their kids' attendance and behavior. Mallard Creek's graduation rate? 93%. And no, they're not an affluent high school with "Type A" parents. Three-fourths are from minorities. 40% could be classified as "poor." But Mallard Creek's students, teachers, and parents simply expect the best. And they do what's necessary to achieve excellence. That's something we should insist on from all of our schools.

WBTB Speak Out: Pay it Forward

With so much going on in the world, it's great to hear that people still love lending a helping hand. We'll never forget this Spring, when dozens of tornadoes slammed across Alabama. Chaos and destruction were everywhere. But hope came on the backs of thousands of volunteer groups who went to the area to help. Now, the folks from New Oregon United Methodist Church in Fort Payne, Alabama are returning the help given to them. The 59-member mission group recently headed here to Statesville to help build a Habitat home for a Vietnam veteran. They called the project "Pay it Forward." On August 24th, Statesville's Habitat team will do just that and head to Alabama to help work on a home damaged from the tornadoes. They pledge to bring with them 6-thousand dollars to give to the project. It's so good to see so much giving going back and forth. And it's about helping each other in times of need. We just need more people to do that.

WBTB Speak Out: 9/11 Anniversary

"Much is being written and said about the 10th Anniversary of "9/11"...and with good reason. But we'd like to ask you to join us in a moment of silence for those who perished. And if your beliefs encourage you to say a prayer for the fallen and their families, we're sure it would be appreciated."

WBTB Speak Out: Project L.I.F.T.

On issues concerning Charlotte Mecklenburg Schools, our WBTB Editorial Board has always encouraged greater community involvement. Now, some community leaders are championing a project that takes that involvement to a whole new level. It's called "Project L.I.F.T.", and group leaders were recently invited to the White House to discuss how businesses can help schools. Project L.I.F.T stands for Leadership and Investment For Transformation. One of their main goals is to address the achievement gap that separates minority and low-income students from their peers at CMS. The group says the need for change is urgent, and we agree. Project L.I.F.T. is driven by leaders from nine of the largest corporate and family foundations in Charlotte, along with Mayor Anthony Foxx and many others. Project L.I.F.T. hopes to raise 55 million dollars over the next 5 years to foster lasting improvement in struggling West Charlotte Corridor Schools and other high poverty zones. The West Charlotte corridor includes 6 elementary schools, Ranson Middle School and West Charlotte High School. Only 51% of senior students graduated from West Charlotte in the 2009-2010 school year. That's right, barely half of students there completed high school. We are all affected by the quality of education our young people receive. They must be prepared for college and workplace success. We hope our entire community will support Project L.I.F.T. Their success will be our success.

WBTV Speak Out: "Romare Bearden" Welcome Home

This month marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of a true pioneer, Romare Bearden – a 20th century African-American artist. Revered around the world as the "father of collage," few know that Bearden actually hailed from right here in Charlotte. Over the next 3 months, the Queen City welcomes home one of its own in a celebration of his works. Through early January, the Mint Museum will host Romare Bearden: Southern Recollections, and it will include nearly 100 works of art. The exhibition and subsequent national tour underscore Bearden's artistic mastery of collage. It also shows his development of narrative and thematic explorations of his native South, and how his roots here served as a source of inspiration throughout his career. In late October, the Charlotte Symphony will host a concert in Bearden's honor. The Bechtler Museum of Modern Art is presenting a series of in-school artist residencies at several CMS middle schools through the end of the school year. This is a golden opportunity for each of us in the community to get up close and personal with an artistic icon and at the same time, honor the legacy of a native son. #### WBTV Speak Out: "Teen Summit" for Delinquent Juveniles

You may have seen a show on the A&E Network entitled "Beyond Scared Straight." This series provides an inside look at adult prison facilities around the country through the eyes of delinquent juveniles. Most recently, they were in the Mecklenburg County jail. It was an intense experience for these teenagers... sometimes difficult to watch. And yet, it's encouraging to see Mecklenburg and other counties reaching out to troubled teens. The Sheriff's Department sees the importance of investing in our youth through programs like "Scared Straight." Locally, it's called "Teen Summit," and the juveniles involved in the program have been recommended by their parents and school resource officers. These young men and women have struggled with crimes in the past... some have been in juvenile facilities. "Teen Summit" may be their last, best hope for turning their lives around. The Sheriff's Office is looking to help not only our teens, but also their parents. Since 1994, this program has counseled families that struggle with behavioral issues. Law enforcement officers and city officials volunteer their time, and have expanded their efforts to meet an ever-increasing need. We commend the Sheriff's Department for reaching out to our troubled youth. And we hope that "Teen Summit" will help turn potential criminals into productive members of our society. For more information, please visit our web site at wbvt.com.

WBTV Speak Out: Purple Heart Homes

There's an understanding in the military that you never leave a fallen comrade in the field. But what happens when our injured vets come home and have to deal with civilian life again? Two young Statesville men, best buddies and members of the North Carolina National Guard, found out the hard way when the Humvee they were driving in Iraq was blown up by a land mine. Dale Beatty lost parts of both legs, and John Gallina suffered severe head trauma and other injuries. Upon their return to the States, the local homebuilders' association in Statesville offered to build a modest home for Dale designed with a double amputee in mind. Dale and John both worked on the home and found that pounding nails and sawing wood was therapeutic for them. Inspired by their neighbors' generosity and support, Dale and John founded "Purple Heart Homes" – an organization which retrofits houses and businesses for other handicapped vets...like this access ramp at Richard's Coffee Shop in Mooresville. Their determination and dedication to their comrades-in-arms recently landed them on the cover of Time Magazine as part of "The NEW Greatest Generation." A shining example of how we can all help each other in troubled times. For service above and beyond the call of duty, we salute Dale Beatty and John Gallina.

WBTV Speak Out: Charlotte Race for the Cure

On Saturday, October 1st, thousands will come together in uptown Charlotte for a great cause...The Komen Charlotte Race For the Cure. Their goal...to help end breast cancer forever, and to provide resources for those facing this disease. WBTV is a proud sponsor of Charlotte's Race For the Cure, and we hope you will consider taking part in this year's race. It's an inspiring, uplifting event that celebrates survivors and unites us all in the fight against breast cancer. 75% of the money raised for Charlotte's Race for the Cure stays right here in our area. It helps pay for early detection and life-saving treatments for those who need help...mostly the uninsured and under-insured. The other 25% is to fund research to find a cure. Now that's a cause we all need to get behind. One in eight women will face breast cancer in their lifetime. One in eight. And it also affects men. Together we can do something about it. Together we can save lives. To learn more, go to WBTV dot com

48 HOURS MYSTERY

- 07/02/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "In Too Deep" - a followup to "In Too Deep" (OAD: 01/22/08), presenting a further examination of the story of Laura Hall, who was convicted and sent to prison for the crime of dismembering the body of Jennifer Cave in 2005. As previously detailed, she admitted to going to the apartment of her boyfriend Colton Pitonyak, at his request, and was confronted with the dead body of Cave in the bathtub. She then -- out of fear for her own life, she says -- drove Pitonyak, at his insistence, to Mexico. After their arrest, Hall was interrogated and charged with hindering the apprehension of Pitonyak. At his own trial, Pitonyak implied that Hall took part in the dismemberment of Jennifer Cave's body after her death. Put on trial for this crime, and for helping Pitonyak escape, she was found guilty and sentenced to five years in prison. However, after 17 months in jail, Laura Hall was released because a court ruled that her sentencing hearing wasn't fair. Her conviction was upheld and she is out on bond while prosecutors fight to put her back in jail. She could be sentenced to more time or released. And Pitonyak's new lawyer, says that they have new evidence and that Hall is also responsible for the murder. At Hall's new hearing, the judge rules against her: she's going back to jail. Her sentencing is set for May 2010, where she faces up to ten years in prison. Unless he wins a new trial, Pitonyak will be eligible for parole in 2033. Update for the 12/18/10 rebroadcast: In June 2010 Laura Hall was sentenced to confinement in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice for a period of ten years. Onscreen graphics update: Colton Pitonyak's case is still under appeal. Laura Hall's projected release date is March 26, 2014. She will be 30 years old. 07/02/11 Onscreen graphics update: Colton Pitonyak's case is still under appeal. Laura Hall is scheduled to be released from prison in 2018. She will be 34 years old. - 07/09/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Body of Lies" (9:00-10:00p) - In the fall of 2006, after two failed relationships that resulted in the birth of her daughters Ashlyn and Tyler, 31-year-old Leisha Hurst seemed to be getting her life on track. While attending Barstow College, studying to become a teacher, she began dating fellow student, 34-year-old Jeami Chiapulis, who bragged about being a war hero and cancer survivor. Chiapulis seemed to be the man she could finally settle down with. The couple had plans to marry when Hurst vanished on January 22, 2009. The next day, Hurst's abandoned car was found 50 miles south of her Barstow, California home, in the town of Hesperia. After denying he and Leisha were in a relationship, Chiapulis admitted to investigators that he was married to Army Lieutenant Colonel Katherine Taylor. He was also involved in a relationship with another Barstow student, Joyce Fransson. When searching his home, police found receipts for items he had recently purchased that could be used in disposing of a body. Leisha's brother took a photograph of rubber gloves and a shower cap that he found near the location of his sister's disappearance. He gave the photograph to the police and the gloves and shower cap to Chiapulis. Chiapulis then gave the gloves and a shower cap to the police. They compared them to the photograph and realized that he had given them a different pair of gloves and a different colored cap. Chiapulis had checked himself into a mental ward; upon checking himself out, he was arrested by the police. Leisha's body had still not been found and the police realized they might be forced to make a deal with Chiapulis to recover her body. In exchange for a reduced sentence, Chiapulis would admit to killing Leisha and reveal where he had buried her body. Her body was recovered on October 8, 2009 and Chiapulis was sentenced to fifteen years to life in prison. He implicated his girlfriend Joyce Fransson, telling the police she was with him when he buried Leisha. Fransson admitted she was with him when he buried a trash can in the desert, but she denied knowing its contents. She was brought to trial on July 26, 2010. After one day of trial, the judge unexpectedly offered her a plea deal, which she accepted. Onscreen graphics: While in prison, Jeami Chiapulis allegedly tried to hire a hitman to kill Joyce Fransson, Detective Keith Libby and Leisha Hurst's two daughters. Chiapulis will face murder-for-hire charges next month. Police say his wife, Army hero Lieutenant Colonel Katherine Taylor, had no knowledge of his double life. She annulled the marriage in December 2009. Ashlyn and Tyler are being raised separately by their fathers. 07-09-11 Updated onscreen graphics: Chiapulis will face murder-for-hire charges on July 27. Joyce Fransson is slated for release from prison this summer. Interviewed: Lynn Hurst, Leisha's father; Debbie Welch, Leisha's mother; Ashlyn and Tyler, Leisha's daughters; Detective Keith Libby from the Barstow Police Department; Jaime Tatro, who once dated Jeami Chiapulis; Joyce Fransson, Jeami's girlfriend; District Attorney Sean Daugherty. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Temptation" (10:00-11:00p) - In June 2007, Dewayne Barrentine, a single father with an 8-year old son met Tausha Fields, a single mother with a 5-year-old daughter, Lexie, and soon after they began living together in Marianna, Florida. Tausha told him some unbelievable stories about herself - that she had a criminal justice degree and a promised inheritance from a Federal judge. He went online to verify her stories and found a marriage certificate which showed she had been married to Mitchell Wayne Kemp. His online searching also led him to one of Tausha's previous boyfriends, Keith Jones, who said Tausha told him she had lured one of her ex-husbands to a farm where he was murdered. Barrentine continued his online investigations and discovered that Mitchell Wayne Kemp had been missing since August 2004. He brought this information to the police and they believed they were dealing with a homicide. They brought Tausha in for questioning and at first she denied knowing about Kemp's whereabouts. Eventually she said that Kemp had been murdered by another of her ex-husbands, Greg Morton. She helped them search Morton's farm and they uncovered Kemp's body. An autopsy revealed that he had been shot six times in the chest. The police believed that Tausha was involved in his murder. Three weeks later police arrested Morton and charged him with first degree murder. They were hoping he would implicate Tausha. He remained silent. Fearing Tausha might run, they arrested her also and charged her with first degree murder. She claimed that Morton shot Kemp in a jealous rage, and Morton claimed that it was Tausha's idea and that she had planned the murder so she could have full custody of Lexie. In return for a reduced sentence to second-degree murder, Morton agreed to testify against Tausha at her July 2010 trial. The trial hinged on the word "lure" which was used in testimony by Tausha's ex-boyfriend Keith Jones. After eight hours of deliberation, the jury found Tausha guilty of first degree murder. She will spend the rest of her life in prison. Onscreen text graphic: Mitch's brother and his family are legal guardians of Lexie. Tausha Fields is appealing the verdict. Greg Morton will be eligible for parole in 2024. He will be fifty-six years old. 07-09-11 Updated onscreen graphics: Greg Morton will be eligible for parole in 2022. He will be 54 years old. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

- 07/16/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Secrets, Lies and Alibis" - On August 22, 2004, John and Susan Sutton had a family get together in their Coral Gables, Florida home, that included their son Christopher, his girlfriend Juliette Driscoll, and Teddy Montoto, John's law partner and friend. Afterwards, when Teddy had left and John and Juliette had gone to a movie, John and Susan retired to separate bedrooms -- Susan often slept in the second room because John snored. Sometime later in the evening, a gunman entered their bedrooms and shot both of them several times. Susan was killed, but John survived. Nothing was taken from the house -- not money, nor jewelry. There was no doubt that this was a premeditated effort to make sure that they were dead. Police interrogation of Teddy Montoto revealed that he had been having an affair with Susan, but further investigation eliminated him as a suspect. Interviews with some of John's closest friends suggested that the Suttons' son, Christopher, should be investigated as a suspect. He had been sent to a behavioral program, Paradise Cove, on the Polynesian islands of Samoa, when he was 16. He claims he was abused there and tried to tell his parents about it, but they didn't believe him, and he was kept there until he was 19. He became the prime suspect. After checking his cell phone records, authorities noticed more than 300 calls to his friend Garrett Kopp, who had been arrested less than 24 hours after the Suttons shooting for attacking someone else with a gun. That turned out to be the same gun that was used to shoot the Suttons. Kopp told police that he was hired by his friend Christopher Sutton to kill his parents. Christopher's then-fiancée Juliette Driscoll told the police that Christopher had a deep-seated resentment towards his parents for sending him to Samoa. She said he often spoke of how great their lives would be if his parents were dead. Garrett Kopp and Juliette Driscoll testified against Christopher in court. Christopher claimed that Kopp had gone to the Suttons' house to steal marijuana and that Driscoll testified against him because she had been threatened by police. After a day and a half of deliberations, the jury found Christopher Sutton guilty of first-degree murder as charged. He was sentenced to life in prison with no possibility of parole. Onscreen graphics: Christopher Sutton is planning to appeal his conviction. Hit man Garrett Kopp is scheduled to be released in 2035. John Sutton vows he will fight to keep Kopp and his son Christopher behind bars. Interviewed: John Sutton; Melissa Sutton, Christopher's sister; Mary Marier, Susan Sutton's sister; Rosanna Cordero, Miami-Dade Detective; Larry Belyeu, lead Detective; Christopher Sutton; Erik Polk, friend of Christopher; Randy Rogers, who was at Paradise Cove with Christopher; Juliette Driscoll, Christopher's fiancée; Kathleen Hoague and Carin Kahgan, prosecutors; Bruce Fleisher, Christopher's attorney; Mitchell Kopp, Garrett's father. - 07/19/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "One of Their Own" - a report about how and why decorated female Los Angeles Police Detective Stephanie Lazarus was charged with the 1986 murder of Sherri Mac Rasmussen. The victim, newly married to John Ruetten, Lazarus' ex-boyfriend, was attacked, beaten and shot to death in her Los Angeles home. Police pursued a robbery motive, even though the only things missing were her car and her marriage certificate. For more than two decades, her father, Nels Rasmussen, has been on a frustrating quest to find out the truth about his daughter's murder. Believing that Sherri's husband, John Ruetten, was not involved, he says he has tried many times to get the police to focus on John's ex-girlfriend Stephanie Lazarus. Sherri had told her family that Stephanie was still obsessed with John and believed that Sherri had stolen John away from her. Recently, the LAPD cold case squad quietly re-opened the case. A piece of evidence -- a saliva sample taken from a bite mark on Sherri's arm -- was sent to a DNA lab. The results indicated that it belonged to a woman, and led police to suspect one of their own: Stephanie Lazarus. Finally Nels Rasmussen felt that police were listening to him. Detectives trailed Stephanie Lazarus to obtain a DNA sample and the results were stunning: the DNA from Sherri's bite mark and that of Stephanie Lazarus matched. In a covert operation, a team planned her arrest and in June 2009, Lazarus was charged with first-degree murder. Her trial is expected to begin shortly. Onscreen text graphic: If convicted, Stephanie Lazarus could face life in prison. A judge ruled out the death penalty. 07/19/11 Updated onscreen text graphic: Stephanie Lazarus's trial is set for August. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

- 07/23/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY - "The One Who Got Away" - a report about how serial killer Andrew Urdiales was identified, arrested and convicted, and about the young woman who became the only one of his victims to survive. Between 1986 and 1996, Andrew Urdiales attacked, tortured and killed eight women, first in California and then in Illinois. His first victim was Robbin Brandley of Mission Viejo, California. In 1992, he charmed 19-year-old Jennifer Ashenson, potentially his ninth victim, who accepted a ride from a seemingly kind stranger and was then driven into the California desert, where she was tortured, made to perform sexual acts and strangled, then put in the trunk of his car. Summoning all the strength she had, she escaped and found safety when a passing truck stopped and rescued her. Urdiales disappeared. In 1997, Chicago police were interested when they received a tip from a prostitute that a client had wanted to tie her up, place her in the trunk of his car, and then drive her out to Wolf Lake. Prior to the tip, the bodies of three other women had been discovered in the lake, all killed with the same gun. The client turned out to be Andrew Urdiales and the gun used in the murders belonged to him. Chicago police brought him in for questioning and Urdiales matter-of-factly confessed to eight unsolved murders in Illinois and California, including Robbin Brandley's and the attack on Jennifer Ashenson. Fifteen years after her attack, Jennifer Ashenson faced Urdiales in a Chicago courtroom; a jury convicted Urdiales and sentenced him to death. California authorities must wait until the appeals process is completed in Illinois, before they can begin their proceedings against him. Onscreen graphic: Andrew Urdiales remains on death row in Illinois. Jennifer Ashenson is writing a book about her life. 07/23/11 Text Graphic Update: In March 2011, Illinois abolished the death penalty. Andrew Urdiales's death sentence was commuted to life in prison. Urdiales will be extradited to stand trial for the murders in California. He could still face the death penalty. Interviewed: Jennifer Ashenson, Genele and Jack Reilly, Robbin Brandley's parents, Jayson Brandley, Robbin's brother, Helen Moreno, supervising investigator with the Orange County DA's office; Howard Gundy, Orange County Deputy Attorney, Palm Springs Lieutenant John Booth; Chicago Homicide Detective Don McGrath; Cook County Assistant State's Attorney Jim McKay; Jennifer Ashenson's daughter Augusta. - 07/26/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "A Killer Defense" - a report on the 2007 murder of Jennifer Turner, married but separated from North Carolina dentist, Dr. Kirk Turner, due to his infidelities with the family banker, Tondja Colvin. Kirk and Jennifer still maintained a lucrative horse farm, but Jennifer had filed for divorce and also brought an alienation of affection suit against Tondja. Their separation also divided the family: daughter Wendy sided with her mother and son Richie chose to live with his father. Jennifer refused Kirk's requests to drop the lawsuit against Tondja and the separation soon became acrimonious. Jennifer feared for her life. On the night of September 12th, Greg Smithson, a family friend who had also done work at the horse farm, asked Jennifer if he could pick up some equipment and bring Kirk along to help. Jennifer agreed. All three of them went to a shed on the property to load equipment. When the conversation between Jennifer and Kirk became personal, Greg excused himself. Soon after, Greg heard screams from the shed. He found Kirk stabbed in the leg by a seven-foot-long decorative spear and Jennifer motionless on the floor. 911 instructed Greg to perform CPR on Jennifer, but she died, having been nearly decapitated. Prosecutors believed that Kirk intended to kill Jennifer and staged the spear attack. Kirk claimed that Jennifer became enraged when he presented an affidavit from her ex-husband, claiming that her first marriage nearly twenty-five years earlier had failed because of her obsessive love of horses and alleging that she had been unfaithful -- and used his pocket knife to defend himself only after she attacked. He was put on trial for first degree murder, with Smithson's testimony playing a key role for both sides. Prosecutors rebuked his testimony and doubted that he had performed CPR on Jennifer. After testimony from a forensic scientist and Kirk himself, the jury found Kirk Turner not guilty by reason of self defense. Wendy still maintains her father's guilt. 07/26/11 Onscreen text graphic: After the trial, the State Bureau of Investigations blood spatter unit was suspended for improperly handling evidence in this case and others. Because Kirk Turner was acquitted, there was no further impact on his case. Turner settled a wrongful death suit out of court. Interviewed: Wendy and Richie Turner, children of Jennifer and Kirk; Susan Doran, Linda Ernst, Anne Gould, and Tara Whittaker, Jennifer's friends; Greg Smithson, friend of Jennifer and Kirk; Joe Cheshire and Brad Bannon, Kirk's attorneys; Greg Brown, prosecutor; Rob Taylor, prosecutor; Johnny Marks, lead investigator for the prosecution; and unidentified members of the jury. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Preacher's Wife" (9:00-10:00pm) - In April 2006, Matt Baker, a pastor from Waco, Texas, returned home to find his wife Kari unconscious, with an empty bottle of Unisom and a suicide note beside her. Paramedics arrived within minutes, but it was too late. Based on the note, the empty bottle of sleeping pills, and the fact that Kari was described as still struggling with the loss of her daughter Kassidy seven years ago, police ruled it a suicide. In a county with no medical examiner, police described the case over the phone to a justice of the peace, who determined that no autopsy was needed. Kari's parents, Jim and Linda Dulin, had no choice but to believe Matt. However, Linda's sisters, Nancy, Kay, and Jennifer, and niece Lindsey believed otherwise. Dubbed "Charlie's Angels", they began their own investigation. After uncovering a possible motive, Linda hired Bill Johnston, a dogged former federal prosecutor, had her daughter's body exhumed and autopsied, and filed a wrongful death suit against Matt. Five months after Kari's death, the justice of the peace declared that her death was no longer classified as a suicide and police subsequently arrested and charged Matt with murder. Believing Matt would be tried in criminal court, Linda dropped her wrongful death suit. After six months, the district attorney still hadn't taken Matt's case to a grand jury -- a requirement under Texas law. Linda eventually refiled the wrongful death suit, shortly before attorney Guy James Gray filed a successful motion to dismiss Matt's criminal case, as a grand jury indictment had not been returned within 180 days. Matt Baker is no longer charged with any crime, though the district attorney continues to investigate and could refile criminal charges. There is no statute of limitations for murder. Update for the 06/09/09 rebroadcast: On March 25, 2009, a grand jury indicted Baker for the murder of his wife, after a surprise witness -- Vanessa Bulls, a girlfriend of his -- came forward and testified. He will go on trial in September. Graphic postscript: Baker was released from jail on $250,000 bond, pending trial. He's again living in Kerrville, Texas, with his parents and daughters. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Dirty Little Secrets" (10:00-11:00pm) - a followup to "The Preacher's Wife" (OAD: 05/10/08; 1st rebroadcast and update on 06/09/09; 2nd rebroadcast on 10/30/10; 3rd rebroadcast on 07/30/11). In April 2006, Matt Baker, a pastor from Waco, Texas, returned home to find his wife Kari unconscious, with an empty bottle of Unisom and a suicide note beside her. Based on the note, the empty bottle of sleeping pills, and the fact that Kari was described as still struggling with the loss of her daughter Kassidy seven years ago, police ruled it a suicide. Linda Dulin, Kari's mother, was convinced she had been murdered and set out to prove it by hiring attorney Bill Johnston and his team of investigators, who had Kari's body exhumed and autopsied. Five months after Kari's death, the justice of the peace declared that her death was no longer classified as a suicide. In September 2007, the police felt they had a homicide on their hands and Matt Baker was arrested and charged with murder. He was released on bond, thanks to attorney Guy James Gray, who took the case pro bono. However, six months later, assistant district attorney Crawford Long dropped the murder charges because the evidence was too speculative. Unwilling to give up, Linda Dulin decided to again sue Matt for wrongful death. Bill Johnston, assistant district attorney Long and prosecutor Susan Shafer continued to investigate. Armed with new information and damning testimony provided to the grand jury by Vanessa Bulls, a woman long suspected of having an affair with Matt before Kari's death, prosecutors were able to arrest Matt and charge him with murder. At the trial, it was revealed that Matt told Vanessa how he planned to murder Kari, the reason why, and even the exact date, but Vanessa chose not to notify the authorities. After seven hours of deliberation, the jury found Matt Baker guilty of first-degree murder. He was sentenced to 65 years with the possibility of parole. Matt still insists he did not kill his wife. The Bakers' daughters live with Matt's parents, where they want to stay. Kari's parents are now fighting for custody of the girls. Onscreen graphics: In January a jury will decide who will get custody of Kari Baker's daughters. No charges will be filed against Vanessa Bulls. After testifying, she lost her job as a teacher. Matt Baker is appealing the verdict. Interviewed: Linda Dulin, Kari's mother; Linda's attorney Bill Johnston; Texas Ranger Matt Cawthon; Assistant District Attorney Crawford Long; prosecutor Susan Shafer; investigator Abdon Rodriguez; Guy James Gray, Matt Baker's attorney; and Matt Baker. Updated text graphic for the 07/30/11 rebroadcast: Two weeks ago a jury awarded sole custody of the girls to Kari's parents, Linda and Jim Dulin. 48 HOURS MYSTERY

48 HOURS MYSTERY - "Name, Rank, Serial Killer?" - a report on Colonel Russell Williams, a highly-regarded Canadian military officer, and a crime spree that began with a series of bizarre thefts of lingerie and ultimately led to the discovery that he was a serial killer. In 2007, a series of crimes occurred in and around the town of Tweed, Ontario, where Col. Williams lived. In 2009, Laurie Massicotte, one of Williams' neighbors, was sexually terrorized in her home. Shortly afterwards, Marie France Comeau, a corporal at Trenton Airbase, where Williams was stationed, was beaten, raped, and suffocated to death. There were no leads in either case. Two months later, Jessica Lloyd went missing in the nearby town of Belleville, and authorities discovered their first solid clues: tire tracks and boot prints. In 2010, Col. Williams was stopped at a random roadblock. Police noticed his tire tracks matched the ones found near Jessica Lloyd's home. He was brought in for questioning and the ensuing battle of wits between the colonel and Det. Sergeant Jim Smith, the police interrogator from the Ontario Provincial Police, would uncover the details of his chilling double life. After nine hours of interrogation, he confessed, and told police where they could find videos of the crimes. The most surprising evidence however, were the trophies Williams kept to commemorate his crimes: thousands of underpants, bras and camisoles, found in his garage, and photos of him modeling the items. Authorities also found child pornography on his computer. In a deal that almost fell apart over the pornography issue, Williams pleaded guilty to the murders of Comeau and Lloyd, to two sexual assaults and to eighty-two counts of breaking and entering -- the bizarre underwear thefts that started it all. The judge sentenced him to the maximum, life behind bars, which he is serving at the penitentiary in Kingston, Ontario. Although the Canadian government stripped Williams of his rank, burned his uniform and crashed his car, he got to keep his air force pension. Concluding onscreen graphic: Laurie Massicotte is planning to sue the Ontario police for failing to protect her from Russell Williams. Onscreen text graphic for the 08/02/11 Rebroadcast: Russell Williams' first assault victim is suing for 2.6 million dollars in damages. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Every Picture Tells a Story" - On February 15, 2009, Cathy McNaughton was stabbed to death in her home in Sharpsburg, Georgia. The day had started with her husband Alec serving her breakfast in bed. He said he then went to visit his mother in Sandy Springs, Georgia, about an hour away. When he returned home, he says he found his wife in a pool of blood. As the victim's husband, he was a suspect, but he had an alibi. Another suspect was Cathy's former husband, Gary Mendenhall, who had been in town that day. He also had an alibi. Alec claimed to be at his mother's house until the evening. He said that he had called Cathy at 2:30PM from his mother's house, but records showed the call originated from a cell phone tower only two miles from his house in Sharpsburg. He also claimed that he made a 911 call while kneeling down next to Cathy's body, but he had no blood on him. Alec's friends and family members started calling police to say they were afraid of him and that he was abusive. Alec's first wife, Linda, said he had beaten her and that is why they were divorced. Police discovered a secret file about Alec that Cathy kept in the closet. There were disposable cameras with pictures of a bruised and battered Cathy. Alec was arrested, but the prosecutor could not show these pictures to the jury until they found the photographer. Their investigation led them to Sandra Harmon, who had been a counselor at Delta Airlines where Cathy had worked. Cathy told her that Alec had attacked and beaten her the day before, and she asked Sandra to take pictures of her injuries. Prosecutors were now able to present these pictures as evidence. Another previous wife said that Alec had pulled a shotgun on their daughter and threatened to kill their daughter, her and himself. During the trial Alec took the stand and denied everything his accusers said about him. The jury found him guilty of murder and he was stunned by the verdict. Onscreen text graphic: Alec McNaughton was sentenced to life in prison. McNaughton is now represented by a public defender and is planning an appeal. Interviewed: Criminal investigator Jason Fether; Michelle and Heather Mendenhall, Cathy's daughters; Alec McNaughton; Prosecutor Kevin McMurry; Linda McNaughton, Alec's ex-wife; Sandra Harmon, counselor who took the pictures of Cathy; Michael Kam, Alec's defense attorney. - 08/13/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Dog Trainer of Anacortes" (9:00 - 10:00pm) - Part one of a two part report on the October 2009 death of Mark Stover, a professional dog trainer. Recently divorced from Linda Opdycke, Stover still operated their lucrative business, "Island Dog Adventures" on Kiket Island, Washington, which they had founded in the early 1990's. Linda, now living elsewhere in Washington state became involved with Michiel Oakes, a weapons expert she had originally hired to analyze her security situation, based upon the fact that Mark had been charged with stalking Linda ever since she initiated their separation. In 2009, Mark moved his dog training business to Anacortes, Washington. Linda and Michiel, now romantically involved, believed that Stover was obsessed with their relationship, as well as with the children from Michiel's previous marriage. On the morning of October 28, 2009, an employee of Mark's arrived at his business and discovered traces of blood in the driveway, Mark's white station wagon missing, and Mark's dog Dingo, shot three times in the face. Based upon a report of trespassing involving two vehicles, one a white station wagon, the other a black SUV, police apprehended the SUV, only to find the driver was Michiel Oakes. The following day, Michiel was arrested at Linda's home on suspicion of murder, after he attempted to dispose of a pistol. - 08/13/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Dog Trainer, the Heiress and the Bodyguard" (10:00 - 11:00pm) - Part two of a two part report on the October 2009 death of Mark Stover, a professional dog trainer. Michiel Oakes was charged with the murder of Mark Stover. Michiel claimed that Mark had invited him to his house on October 28, 2009 and that the shooting was in self-defense because Mark pulled a gun on him. After the shooting, Michiel removed Mark's body from his house and drove to the home of his ex-wife, Jennifer Thompson. Jennifer told police that Michiel implied that he had been hired by someone as a hitman to kill someone. Linda Opdycke briefly spoke to police the night Oakes was arrested, but the next day she refused to answer any questions on the advice of her attorney. Oakes was freed on bail, he and Linda were forbidden by court order to see each other or communicate. During the trial, Oakes testified in his own defense. Linda Opdycke testified that Mark Stover could be very dangerous. During her testimony, prosecutors told her if Oakes was found to be acting in self-defense, then she herself would not have any liability. Linda told them that she did not have any liability in this case. Prosecutors have never charged her with any crime. After four days of deliberation, the jury came to a unanimous verdict. Michiel Oakes was found guilty of premeditated murder. He was given the maximum sentence of 26 years, with no chance of parole. The case is still open and Linda Opdycke has not been charged with being an accomplice. Onscreen graphics: Vickie Simmons has posted a $50,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of accomplices in her brother's murder. Michiel Oakes is appealing his conviction. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

08/20/11

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Hannibal Unmasked" - A report on the separate disappearances in 2003 of three young women in the Denver, Colorado area, and the investigations which not only eventually discovered the one individual who had known all three women, but led to his conviction as the killer of the three. His victims included 19-year-old Kaysi McLeod, a recovering drug user, who left home in August 2003 after a confrontation with her mother, Lori. When Kaysi didn't show up for work two days later, and police wouldn't allow a missing persons report to be filed (Kaysi was over eighteen and there was no evidence of foul play), Lori turned to her boyfriend and eventual husband, Scott Kimball, who claimed to work for the FBI. Kaysi never was found. Seven months before Kaysi disappeared, Howard Emry's 24-year-old daughter, LeAnn, had also vanished. LeAnn had been in a relationship with an inmate named Steven Holley. Jennifer Marcum, too, vanished shortly after visiting her prison boyfriend, Steve Ennis. Family members of both women also went to authorities, but leads in the investigation went nowhere. Then an FBI agent contacted Jennifer's family and told them that Jennifer had been killed by her boyfriend's drug associates. This information came from the agent's informant, Hannibal, a.k.a. Scott Kimball. In the fall of 2006, Rob McLeod, Kaysi's father, learned of Jennifer Marcum's disappearance through a newspaper article. Both Rob McLeod and Bob Marcum learned of a connection to Scott Kimball. Together, both fathers went to the FBI and revealed their suspicions. After a lengthy investigation, it was determined that Kimball was responsible for the deaths of the three women and that of his uncle, Terry Kimball, who had visited Kimball and mysteriously disappeared. In 2008, a skull was recovered by the FBI from a national forest, where it had been held for months after its discovery by a hunter during the winter. DNA analysis identified it as the skull of Kaysi McLeod. With Kimball sentenced to 48 years for his recent non-violent crimes, prosecutors wanted him to be convicted for his murders, so a deal was offered -- no charges of first-degree murder -- if he would lead authorities to the remaining bodies of his victims. The bodies of LeAnn Emry and his Uncle Terry were recovered; Jennifer Marcum's body has never been found. In October 2009, Kimball pleaded guilty to all of the murders and was sentenced to seventy years. Interviewed: Rob and Lori McLeod, Kaysi's parents; Kaysi's best friend Tabetha Morton; Howard Emry, LeAnn's father; Brent Pace, a Utah investigator and tracker; Lafayette, Colorado Detective Gary Thatcher; Bob Marcum and Jennifer Willis, Jennifer Marcum's parents; FBI Special Agent Jonathan Grasing; Boulder County Prosecutor Amy Okubo; lead Prosecutor Katharina Booth; Scott Kimball; and Jim Davis, now in charge of the FBI's Denver office. - 09/03/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Fatal Choice" - On August 16, 2009, 56-year-old Sandra Franklin called police to report a violent confrontation with her husband at their Bainbridge, Ohio, horse ranch. Shortly after, authorities received a call from the victim himself, Dr. Peter Franklin, who had been stabbed in the chest. Within hours, Peter was dead and his wife was charged with murder. Shortly after their marriage in 2000, Sandra had fired Peter's longtime office manager and taken over the job herself. Peter then dropped his malpractice insurance, no longer accepted health insurance and moved his assets to Sandra in case he was sued. He also switched from family medicine to pain management and, according to law enforcement officials, dispensed an alarming amount of drugs and generated a lot of cash. His office was raided by State drug investigators in 2009, but no arrests were made. Sandra claims the stress of the investigation caused Peter to become violent. They were on the brink of divorce. Peter demanded his assets back and Sandra refused. During one of their many arguments, Sandra claimed that Peter threatened her life with a pen knife which he kept on his key chain. During the argument she grabbed a large knife from their kitchen and she stabbed Peter. She claimed it was self defense. She had scratches on her body, but the police believed they were self-inflicted. Sandra was charged with murder. Her trial began nine months after Peter's death. Her defense attorney said Sandra acted in self defense. After four days of deliberation, Sandra was found guilty of murder. At her sentencing three weeks later, Sandra still professed herself to be innocent of all charges. The judge gave her the mandatory sentence of fifteen years to life. Onscreen graphics: Sandra Franklin never collected on her husband Peter's life insurance policy. That policy and his estate, worth $1.5 million, went to his niece and nephew. Sandra Franklin will be eligible for parole in 2025. She will be 72. Onscreen text graphic for the 09/03/11 Rebroadcast: Sandra Franklin has appealed her conviction. Interviewed: Sandra Franklin; Liz Franklin, Peter's first wife; Robbi Arters, Peter's ex-girlfriend; Sandy McDermott, Peter's office manager, who was fired by Sandy; Investigator Karen Sweet; Geauga County prosecutors David Joyce and Carly Snively; Sergeant Andy Kelley who questioned Sandra on the night of Peter's death; Steve Bell, Sandra's defense attorney. - 09/09/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: LIVE TO TELL: "The Railroad Killer" - A report on the August 29, 1997 attack on two University of Kentucky students as they walked along the railroad tracks in Lexington, Kentucky. Chris Maier was killed by his attacker who then proceeded to stab, beat, and rape Holly Dunn, who miraculously survived her injuries. Fourteen months after Holly's attack, Dr. Claudia Benton was murdered inside her Houston, Texas area home, located near railroad tracks. Lexington Detective Craig Sorrell received a call from ViCAP, a national crime registry database, linking the crimes. Through fingerprint analysis, they identified Rafael Resendez-Ramirez as the suspect. After his arrest, he was ultimately identified as Angel Maturino Resendiz. His trial started in May of 2000 in Houston; he was found guilty of capital murder. Holly testified in the penalty phase of the trial and identified Resendiz in court. The jury decided he was a future danger to society and the judge sentenced him to death. He was executed in June of 2006. Holly chose not to attend the execution. She has dedicated her life to helping other victims and founded Holly's House, a child and adult advocacy center in Evansville, Indiana. Onscreen graphics: By the time of his execution, Resendiz was linked to at least fifteen murders in six states. Authorities learned he killed a teenage couple in Florida, just months before he attacked Chris and Holly. - 09/17/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The West Memphis 3 - Free" - a followup to "A Cry for Innocence" (OAD: 02/27/10), the story of three teenagers known as the "West Memphis Three" who were convicted of the brutal murders of three young boys in West Memphis, Arkansas, seventeen years ago. Damien Echols received the death penalty, while friends Jason Baldwin and Jesse Misskelley were sentenced to life in prison. As the case became well-known, musicians and actors came forward to lend their support, and an HBO documentary, "Paradise Lost", and a book by Mara Leveritt entitled "Devil's Knot", detailed flaws in the case, and forensic scientists challenged results. The Arkansas Supreme Court ordered a different judge to examine all the evidence, old and new, and decide if their should be new trials. The only hitch: everyone will have to wait another year. Now, in a stunning turn of events, the three men were all released from prison last month, agreeing to a rarely used legal procedure, called the Alford Plea, in which a defendant proclaims innocence and yet pleads guilty. Included in this follow-up are interviews with Damien Echols and his wife, Lorri Davis; Jason Baldwin; attorney Stephen Braga. On-Screen Text Graphic: As a condition of the plea, the West Memphis 3 had to agree not to sue the state of Arkansas. - 09/24/11      48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Arturo Gatti's Last Fight" - a report on the mysterious 2009 death of world champion boxer Arturo Gatti. When Gatti was found dead in Brazil, police characterized the death as a homicide and arrested his wife, Amanda Gatti. She was never charged and three weeks later, released when authorities concluded that he had taken his own life. To this day, theories abound, with many who knew him not believing his death could be a suicide. Included in this report is the first television interview by Amanda Gatti about the night her husband died and about her life with the fighter. Brother Joe Gatti talks about his own theory into Arturo's death, and how he believes the death was indeed a suicide. The family, however, does not agree, and thinks Amanda Gatti was after money. They have hired private investigators Paul Ciolino and Joe Moura to investigate. The two believe Brazilian authorities botched the case and that Gatti was murdered and Amanda Gatti killed him. However, their case is not airtight. Amanda Gatti today, is still involved in a court case involving Gatti's assets. Text Graphic: Brazilian authorities say they will examine the private investigators' report on Gatti's death. The Canadian court still has not ruled on who gets Gatti's fortune.
